Does the absolute value of 0 exist?

No, the absolute value of zero is zero. For real numbers, the law of trichotomy states that every real number is either positive, negative, or zero.  $|0|=0$ . The word "positive" is ambiguous: it can mean " $\geq 0$ " or " $> 0$ ".

RELATED QUESTIONS

What number is less than absolute value?

2 Answers By Expert Tutors If a number IS NEGATIVE, then the number is less than its absolute value.

What if absolute value is negative?

Since the absolute value of any number other than zero is positive, it is not permissible to set an absolute value expression equal to a negative number. So, if your absolute value expression is set equal to a negative number, then you will have no solution.
